

I oppose the weakening of Indiana's telephone privacy law. I don't feel that companies should have access to my home phone number to soliciate me for their business. There are other ways that companies can market their product or services. For instance, via correspondence. If this does pass, I will not be banking or hold any credit cards with the companies listed as being part of the FBA.